Curatorial Work

I organise and curate group shows with other artists via my katmapped.org and other initiatives, focussing on thematic approaches for context and employing a highly selective criteria while also making the exhibitions as inclusive as possible.

Studio, Public and Charitable Work

My studio is within London's Collage Arts creative regeneration charity and part of the annual 'N22 Open Studios' showcasing over 100 artists and their impact and value to North London's diverse communities. I have been awarded commissions for public artwork by the Mayor of London's Creative Enterprise Zone 'Made by Tottenham' (Haringey) and participate in numerous charitable art-based fund raising initiatives. Representative efforts include 'Spotlight on Asylum' assisting vulnerable women asylum seekers, the CRIS Cancer Foundation funding vital clinical medical research in the UK and Europe, Art on a Postcard charity auctions, and several initiatives to benefit NHS staff during the pandemic, as well as in support of Book Trust, and for humanitarian aid to refugees.

Coombe Farm Studios Guest Tutor

Coombe Farm Studios (Devon) approached me in 2021 to tutor at their selective intensive residential courses in intuitive abstract painting; I currently am in residence there as a guest tutor two times a year.
